

FACT SHEET 1 About the Sports-haler™

What is a Sports-haler?

A next generation puffer, the Sports-haler is designed to take standard medication canisters and has been developed for adults and children who use pressurised metered dose inhalers (pMDIs). Compact and convenient, the Sports-haler allows you to participate in your sport or activity of choice with confidence, knowing your medication is protected and is easily and quickly accessible.

How does it work?

A medication canister is inserted into the body of the Sports-haler the same way as when using the old style puffer. The Sports-haler body is then sealed with a flexible end cap. When needed the mouthpiece cover is opened by twisting it, allowing the mouthpiece to extend out. The Sports-haler is then held and used exactly as you would your regular puffer. After use, the mouthpiece is retracted with a twist action, and forms a protective seal.

What is its aim?

It allows users of pMDIs to participate in a range of activities with confidence and reflects their individuality.

What are its features?

- Retractable twist action mouthpiece is kept clean and dry in a compact and portable design.
- Connects quickly and easily to a range of “wear it your way” accessories for active users.
- Available in a selection of funky fashion colours to reflect the individual user.
- Standard holder gives comfortable and secure portability and can be personalised with interchangeable coloured cover options.
- Reusable – when the medication canister is empty simply insert a new canister.

Benefits to Sports-haler users

- The retractable twist action mouthpiece and sealed nature of the Sports-haler body limits the ingress of dirt and moisture, increasing user safety.
- Safe accessibility and peace of mind from knowing exactly where the inhaler is at the onset of symptoms – through holder selection suitable for their chosen activity.
- The range of holders and accessories enable the wearer to choose combinations best suited to their activity, whether working in an office or facing the elements during outdoor pursuits.
- The slim design when mouthpiece is retracted allows for comfortable carrying in a pocket.
- The user can personalise the device by way of colour combinations and add-on products.
